KING CITY TEAM AN EASY VICTIM

MARYVILLE WINS SECOND GAME, A WALK-AWAY, 38 TO 6

VISITORS SCORE AT END

Fumbled Punt Leads to Lone Touchdown; Locals Outweigh Opponents; S. T. C. at Albany Today

The Maryville High School football team had little difficulty yesterday in defeating the team from King City on the local grounds by a score of 38 to 6. It was altogether a matter of how many scores the Maryville team could make. The victory at no time was in doubt.

The cold snap made conditions ideal for the players, but a trifle uncomfortable for the spectators, who were out in good numbers and who spent most of the game surging up and down the sidelines in following the Maryville team to its various touchdowns. Considerable "pep" was shown by the spectators in spite of the cold, and the high school yells were frequent, even though not particularly needed by the team.

Maryville plainly outweighed the visitors and showed the effects of superior training. King City's efforts through the line were futile, rarely netting more than a yard or two. The visitors were forced to rely on forward passes, in which they had only moderate success. Maryville, on the other hand, went through the King City line successfully. End runs also netted good gains. Forward passing for Maryville was little more successful than for King City. Fumbles were frequent on both sides, especially in retrieving punts.

A long punt by King City that was recovered by the visitors close to the Maryville line in the last few minutes of play led to their only score. A short forward pass was successful, and then, although the Maryville line held against one plunge, a second effort managed to make the required distance. Goal was missed.

This is Maryville's second victory of the season, which gives the local team a good start toward the second Northwest Missouri championship in two years. The next game will be with Albany high school on the Maryville grounds next Friday.

The team of the State Teachers College is playing Palmer College at Albony this afternoon. Fourteen players and Coach Robert Rice went to Albany on the train this morning. This is the second game of the season for the college team, and Coach Rice predicts a victory.

ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL QUOTA FOR COUNTY SET AT $1,650

Campaign in Nodaway Will be Week of October 20-27, With Fred Hull, Maryville, Chairman

The Roosevelt Memorial campaign in Nodaway county during the week of October 20-27, when it is expected our quota of $1,650 will be easily raised, will be under the management of Fred Hull of Maryville, who was recently selected as county chairman of this campaign. All sections of the country are uniting in this movement and men of all parties are uniting in honoring the memory and assisting in perpetuating the principles of high Americanism of the former statesman, author and traveler.

Mr. Hull, in an interview, said:

"During the week of October 20-27 the people of the United States will be given the privilege of subscribing to a fund to be used in building a memorial at Oyster Bay to Theodore Roosevelt, Great American, whose life is an inspiration to every American youth.

"The quota that has been assigned to Nodaway county is $1,650, and I have been named as chairman of the committee in this county to raise the money and send it to the state headquarters. The chairman is expected to name a number of solicitors in each township to visit the people of the county and solicit contributions to this fund, but I believe the people of Nodaway county are anxious to honor themselves by contributing to this great cause and that there is no occasion to ask a large number of men to leave their work to make this solicitation.

"Believing this, it is in my mind to issue a call to the people of the county to send in their contributions during the week preceding the formal canvass so that I may report to the state chairman that Nodaway county has reached the goal before the campaign started. Elsewhere in this paper you will find a subscription blank payable to the Roosevelt Memorial Association and mail it to me.

"Let's go over the top without the necessity for a large organization and the expenditure of a lot of energy on the part of busy men in every portion of the county."

DR. E. B. THOMPSON, NEW M. E. SUPERINTENDENT, HERE

DR. W. F. BURRIS LEAVES

Now Settled in St. Joseph, and Will Open Work at Bethany, Harrison County, Tomorrow

Dr. Thompson, the new superintendent of the Maryville district of the Methodist church, will preach his first sermon at the First M. E. church tomorrow evening. Doctor Thompson, with Mrs. Thompson and their son, will move to Maryville within the next few days and will be located in the residence at 121 South Mulberry street, formerly occupied by Dr. W. F. Burris, who has moved to St. Joseph.

Doctor Thompson is a graduate of the Missouri Wesleyan College at Cameron and entered the ministry in 1898. He has been in this conference ever since and with the exception of two years has held pastorates. One year he was secretary of evangelism of the conference and another year field secretary for the Missouri Wesleyan College at Cameron.

He has held pastorates at Maysville, Memphis, Braymer and Hamilton, coming to Maryville from Hamilton. At Braymer he built one of the best churches in the conference district.

Doctor Thompson's son, Joseph Thompson, a graduate of Wesleyan College, is attending Harvard Divinity School, and studying for the ministry.

Dr. W. F. Burris, who left Maryville yesterday, after four years here as superintendent, is beginning his new work in the St. Joseph district at once. Doctor Burris has purchased a home in St. Joseph and moved his household goods there last week.

"Dr. W. F. Burris, the new district superintendent of the Methodist church will preach at the Methodist church in Bethany next Sunday night." According to the Bethany Democrat. He will hold the first quarterly conference Monday morning. Dr. Burris is a former Harrison county boy, and has a legion of friends who give him a welcome to our county. Come out next Sunday night and hear him preach.

"Of Dr. Burris the Central Chirstian Advocate of last week says:

"It is quite likely that Dr. William Franics Burris, of the Missouri Conference has a record not paralleled by any Methodist preacher. He entered the Missouri conference in 1894. He was pastor until 1901, with a hiatus to allow him to be field secretary of Missouri Wesleyan for one year, when in 1901, at the age of thirty-eight he was made superintendent of the Brookfield District. On the completion of that term he was transferred to the Cameron district for another six years, he was then transferred to the Kirksville district, and a year later transferred to the Maryville district and now after four years on that "diocese" is transferred by Bishop Quayle to the St. Joseph district and there begins a career of quiet, satisfying leadership which, should he complete the full term will give him a full quarter of a century consecutively as district superintendent.

"But the unique thing is, he has by this time been appointed superintendent of every district in the Missouri conference.

"His brethern have shown their appreciation of him by electing him to the general conference in 1908 and including that next May. He is president of the board of trustees of Missouri Wesleyan. For twelve years he has been a member of the General board of control of the Epworth League, and one of its most sagacious counselors. He is not a place seeker. He does not seek the front seat. He is a quiet, reticent, builder who is all there, all on the job, fraternal, a counselor without axes to grind, a character beyond reproach."

PUPILS DEMONSTRATE THEIR VITALIZED AGRICULTURE WORK

Good Crowd Attends Community Meeting of Gaynor and Snowball Schools at Gaynor

The first community meeting of the third year's work was held at Gaynor Thursday night, pupils of the Gaynor and Snowball schools taking part. Miss Maude Whitehead teaches the Gaynor school; Miss Maude Frede, the Snowball. Prof. Bert Cooper, county superintendent of schools, Mrs. W. O. Griffey, leader in the county vitalized agriculture work and Prof. Arthur Hoech state high school inspector, were among those present. They report an excellent program.

The pupils demonstrated the work being done in the vitalized agriculture schools, the special subjects taken up being live stock and insects. The patrons of the schools showed their interest by a good attendance and ready applause.

Everywhere about the school room were evidence of the pupils' work. They had made posters on various topics connected with the types of live stock. A large poster was on display showing the school district with all the farms indicated and the number of acres in each, together with a summary of all the live stock found in the district. Many of the familiar ingects had been mounted by the children.

Those taking part in the program were: Vera Munn, Loren Hart, Fay Sparks, Harley Garrard, Byron Bush, Carl King, Ruby Anthony, Harold Hilton, Jimmie Hepburn and Marie Parker. Professor Hoech made a talk.

CORN CROP MAKES GAIN IN A MONTH

MISSOURI INCREASE REPORTED IS 2,532,000 BUSHELS

CONDITION HERE NOW 93

Yield of 33 Bushels an Acre Indicated For Nodaway County; U. S. Adds 27,999,000 in Year

Jefferson City, Oct. 11. — The Missouri corn crop gained 2,532,000 bushels during September, according to E. A. Logan and Jewell Mayes of the U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates and State Board of Agriculture, now indicating a total yield of 159,671,000 bushels, which is 27,999,000 bushels more than the 1918 crop.

In Nodaway county the condition of corn is 93 per cent, prospective yield per acre 33 bushels, 86 per cent fully matured and 6 days after October 1 required to mature late crop. Oats yield per acre 30 bushels and quality 90 per cent. Yield of potatoes 75 bushels per acre; condition of apples 75 per cent; pastures 80 per cent, and 10 per cent of fall wheat sown.

Expected to Make 27.7 Bushels.

Missouri corn condition is 73 per cent against 70 per cent last month and a 10 year average of 67 per cent, indicating 27.7 bushels per acre. Fully 80 per cent is mateure and safe from frost. Cribbing can begin earlier than usual. Up to the time of issuing this report no frost damage has occurred to the late corn and another week will see practically all the crop matured in the southeast and scattering fields in other sections. Farmers estimate it will take 14 days from October 1 to mature the late corn, with southeast Missouri requiring about 18. Yield runs 32 to 36 bushels in the northern third, 24 to 27 in the middle and southeast section, and 14 in the southwest, where there is a near failure in many localities, and 20 in the south central. Corn cutting and silo filling are nearly finished. Late corn of the north third ripened fast early in September at the expense of yield.

Oats yield 27 bushels per acre; total 36,259,000 bushels against 44,196,000 bushels last year. Quality 85 per cent agrees with 10 year average. Spring wheat yielded 8½ bushels per acre, with the low quality of 66 per cent; barley 30 busels and 80 per cent quality; buckwheat 71 per cent condition. Flax seed yielded 9½ bushels per acre, better than recent years.

Wheat Seeding Is Late.

Wheat seeding for 1919 is later than in recent years because of the drouth in August preventing plowing. Threshing very slow and some labor deficiencies prevented plowing until after the late rains. Only about 25 per cent of the expected acreage of wheat was sown on Oct. 1, with the largest amount in northeast and central sections and a much smaller in the southern third. Indications now are for a seeding of 80 per cent of last year, or 3,394,000 acres, against 4,243,000 acres of 1918, with final returns possibly a million less. The uncertainty of conditions and farm labor together with a desire to return to former cropping systems causes farmers to seed less or cut out the crop altogether. Seeding of rye will be about 90 per cent that of last year. Chinch bugs are plentiful in Lewis, Pike, Henry, St. Clair, Phelps, Jefferson, St. Charles, McDonald and Cape Girardeau and with some Hessian fly in Webster. Early sown rye coming up to good stand.

Forage crops improved during th month. Grain sorghums indicate 89 per cent, field peas 76 per cent, soy beans 74 per cent, millet 75 per cent with 25 per cent cut for seed, clover seed 65 per cent. Much newly seeded clover will go over to next year. Alfalfa seed 2 bushels per acre, the same as last year.

Garden Crops Nearly All In.

Fruit and garden crops nearly all gathered. Apples 57 per cent, some commercial orchards going at high prices. Pears 66 per cent, grapes 76 per cent, tomatoes 70 per cent yield, cabbages 3 tons per acre, onions 89 bushels, potatoes 75 bushels against 50 last year. Sweet potatoes 79 per cent, tobacco 89 per cent, peanuts 80 per cent, sorghum cane for syrup 79 per cent.

Pastures 76 per cent against 78 per cent last month and 74 per cent average. Rapidly improving in nearly all sections, with seasonable weather during the next month, fall and winter grazing will be sufficient. Water for live stock is now plentiful.

General conditions are more favorable than in September. Farm work now active, soil in good condition, labor situation slowly stabilizing itself. Live stock healthy with but little cattle feeding beginning, but that of hogs near the usual. Interest in sheep feeding increasing. Missouri farmers are adjusting their affairs to the reconstruction period.

NEBRASKA MAN IS HELD HERE ON AUTO STEALING CHARGE

Robert Bailey, Formerly of Elmo, Identified by Darlington Men; Arraigned This Afternoon

Robert Bailey, who claims his home in O'Neill, Neb., will be arraigned before Justice W. C. Johnson late this afternoon on a charge of being implicated in automobile stealing. Bailey was arrested Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Leo Atherton at Elmo, when he called for a grip which was sent there in the name of C. Hammond. The grip contained automobile tools and wire.

Two business men from Darlington, C. W. Groom and W. W. Nichols, positively identified Bailey as one of the three men who were in Darlington all day a week ago last Thursday. He went there under the name of C. Hammond. The three men had a Ford car without any license plate. This car is thought to be the one stolen from W. I. Gray of Ravenwood. Late that evening the man under arrest here went to Groom's store and purchased some insulated wire.

The men stayed at the hotel in Darlington and engaged rooms there Thursday night. At about 3 o'clock Friday morning Bailey wakened the proprietor of the hotel, went to the room where his companions were sleeping, and the three of them left a short time later. The next morning it was found that a Buick Six belonging to Jeff Patton had been stolen.

When the men left the Darlington hotel Bailey, who went by the name of Hammond, left a suitcase and told the proprietor he would return for it. Th first of the week the hotel man received a letter telling him to send the suit case to Elmo. Deputy Sheriff Atherton was on hand at Elmo when Bailey called for the grip.

Bailey formerly lived in Elmo.

Burlington Junction Post.

A representative of the White & Myers Lyceum Bureau was in Burlington Junction yesterday and completed arrangements with the public school for a lecture course this fall and winter. The first number of the course will be given at the Christian church next Saturday night, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. "The Fighting Americans" is the number. The numbers and dates are as follows:

The Fighting Americans, Oct. 11.

Dr. H. V. Adams, Nov. 10.

Josephine Dominick Concert Company, Jan. 1.

Dr. Geo. P. Bible, April 1.

The Maryville Light company's men have been here this week wiring the second floor of the Northwestern bank building, all of which is now rented for offices.

M. W. Staples, who went to St. Joseph last week for medical treatment, is not doing as well as had been hoped for. He is at the Ensworth hospital and is suffering from paralysis. His sons, Newell and Bert, have been with hm at the hosptal.

The Walker farm south of town, consisting of over 500 acres, changed owners twice last week, a Mr. Brown of Carroll county buying it and selling it to J. C. Beck of Shenandoah, Iowa. The Atwood eighty west of town was also sold to John Boyer of King City. Both transactions were made by the Rhodes real estate agency.

The Burlington Junction concert band will give its last concert of the season on Main street Saturday night.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Crane died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nicholas, Friday. A short funeral service was held at the home by Rev. Ernest Snider and burial was in the Ohio cemetery.

James Glenn is getting about with the assistance of crutches this week as a result of being kicked by a horse last Thursday. He had brought a load of hogs to the stock yards and stepped by one of the horses without speaking to the animal. Its hoof struck him between the ankle and the knee, making quite a laceration and bruising the leg badly.

Hopkins Journal.

Ed C. Wolfers, Jr., left last Sunday for Rochester, Minn., to consult the Mayos regarding his physical condition. He is feeling and looking a great deal better, but thought a trip north would do him no harm. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wolfers.

Horace Leet and Will Phares of Maryville were Hopkins visitors Sunday, coming up to call on Ed Wolfers, Jr., but found he had left for Rochester, Minn., a few hours before their arrival. These two men are commercial factors in the county and in their home town are referred to as "pillars of Maryville," Mr. Leet being a grain man and Mr. Phares a lumberman. They also dabble in politics, both being Republicans, Mr. Phares being a member of the state committee as well as county chairman.

Frank Yeomans arrived here last week from Gary, Ind., being called by the serious illness of his mother. Fred Yeomans was also here from Sheridan, Sunday.

The ladies of the P. E. O. Society met last Monday with Mrs. George Harvey, three miles south of town, and spent a most pleasant afternoon, the only thing to mar the pleasure of those present being the thought that this would be the last meeting with this sister, at least for some time, as Mr. and Mrs. Harvey will leave soon to make their home in California. They expect to give a closing out sale in about six weeks, after which they will leave in their car for the west.

Mr. Miller of Savannah came up last week to attend the Hopkins barbecue, and while here bought a recorded Duroc gilt of J. R. King & Son, the well known breeders. The gilt weighed 150 pounds, and the price received was $150, indicating that it pays to raise good stuff.

John Gray has bought the livery and feed business of Dr. Henson and is now in charge of same. He will do principally auto livery, keeping but one team to use when road conditions make it impractical to use a car.

Both horses are now at Clarksville, Ark., where you may expect to hear of more winnings.

STATE DEMOCRATIC MEETING TUESDAY WILL BE A RALLY

Great Plans Made for an Old Fashioned Country Supper; No Furs Among the Women Members Yet

The joint meeting of the men's and women's state committees to be held at Jefferson City, Tuesday, October 14, will partake of the nature of a grand Democratic rally, the largest that has ever been held in the state since the last national campaign. Organization headquarters at Kansas City reports many requests for reservation of tickets for the old fashioned country supper that will be served at the Madison hotel Tuesday evening. Each congressional district will send representation. The Democratic City Central Committee of St. Louis has announced that it will attend in a body.

Congressman Scott Ferris of Oklahoma and Mrs. George Bass of Washington, D. C., chairman of the Woman's National Democratic Committee, will be guests of honor. Governor Gardner will preside at the supper and Dr. Burris Jenkins, editor of the Kansas City Post, will act as toastmaster.

Areception committee composed of one hundred Jefferson City ladies, assures the warmest hospitality for the visitors. One of the features of the program will be ten minute talks by women, among them being Ida Clark and Mrs. Frederick M. Smith of Kansas City; Mrs. A. Ross Hill of Columbia; Mrs. Jemima Hughes of Keytesville; Mrs. Susie Fitzmaurice of Forrest City; Mrs. J. H. Cutten of Jefferson City; Miss Gladys Craig of Knobnoster; Mrs. W. R. Minear of Lancaster; Mrs. Neva Thomas of Springfield; Mrs. Gertrude M. Williams of Sheldon.

This will be the first state meeting of the women members. They wil perfect their state organization. Th Republican politicians and press, who have been gloating with the forecast that the women will kick up an awful rumpus in their selection of officers, will be gloriously disappointed. It was freely predicted that Mrs. A. W. Baxter of Jefferson City would carry on a savage fight for the state chairmanship of the women's committee. She sat tight, smiled and said nothing until this week, when she authorized the state committee to let out the secret that she had never been a candidate of her own accord.

Fourth District Women Named.

Chairman I. R. Williams of the Fourth district congressional committee has appointed Mrs. Herbert A. Owen of St. Joseph and Mrs. T. P. Fitzmaurice of Forest City members of the congressional committee, and they will take part in its next meeting. They will also begin as soon as possible the organization of the Democratic women voters of the district, and will have all in readiness for the coming presidential election. Mrs. Owen and Mrs. Fitzmaurice expect to attend the first educational meeting, which will be held at Jefferson City next Thursday.—St. Joseph Observer.

The Saftest Cook Stove in the World

That's what the electric range is. It will not explode, nor get too hot and set the house on fire. The electric may be set so that the heat is automatically turned on and turned off while you are away from home.

You can regulate the electric range much better and much easier than you can any other kind of cook stove. And for that reason you can get BETTER COOKING RESULTS.

It is economical because the fuel is not expensive, because none of it is wasted and because it is clean and saving on the house and also saving on foods.

If you have electricity in your home you should have the electric range. Come to the office and talk to us about it.

LODGE'S OWN MEN DIDN'T BACK HIM

SUPPORT IN MASSACHUSETTS IS EXTREMELY FEEBLE

WON'T CONDEMN TREATY

Republicans Refuse to Vote Against it and Leave Their Leader Far Out in the Cold

Washington, Oct. 10. — Republican newspapers and individuals that have been urging destructive amendments to the peace treaty are forced to concede that members of Senator Lodge's party in his own state—Massachusetts—did not go far enough in their opposition to approve his stand as an outright defeatist.

Senator Lodge journeyed to Massachusetts before the convention opened, was present at its deliberations and addressed its members, uttering at the same time a mixture of glorification and defense of his hostility to the treaty, but seemingly he was unable to accomplish a complete repudiation of the pact now before the senate.

The New York Tribune, in an editorial review of the convention's pronouncement, was compelled to note that in declaring for a ratification of the treaty without amendments, it "did not go as far as Senator Lodge has gone."

Not An Approval of Treaty.

Democrats in Washington are no pretending that the action of the Massachusetts Republicans was an approval of the treaty, but they are sharing with many Republican critics the view that it was a rejection of Senator Lodge's proposals for amendments that would spell defeat, and moreover was a distinct and unmistakable refusal to accept his leadership in that direction.

Commentators point out that Senator Lodge has been regarded as the Republican leader of those senatorial forces which have been fighting to kill the treaty. It was assumed Mr. Lodge had some assurance that at least the Republican organization of his own state was in complete sympathy with his program. The revelations at the state convention are taken to indicate that he has not been able to dictate his party's policy in his own state while all the time he was attempting to lead the senators of other commonwealths.

May Influence Senators.

It is believed here that Republican senators who have been following Mr Lodge along the path to outright rejection of the treaty will be influenced by the outcome of the Massachusetts convention. These senators, it is felt, will begin to question whether the Republican organizations of their respective states are not quite as much opposed to amendments and other devices which would kill the treaty as are the Republicans of Massachusetts. With Senator Lodge reminded by the leaders of Massachusetts that they are course, be will have some difficulty in persuading Republican senators from the Middle West to take their cue from him.

No one on the Democratic side of the fight expects that Senator Lodge will openly reconcile his position in the senate with that of the Republicans of Massachusetts, as expressed in the declarations of their convention, but on the other hand, no one would be surprised if he is less strenuous hereafter in his endeavors to cajole or command other Republican senators to do more than his own political associates and workers are willing to do.

Put a Brake On Efforts.

If the Massachusetts convention has not rebuked Senator Lodge—and no Democrat here places that construction on its resolution—it is nevertheless considered a fair deduction that it has put a brake on his further efforts to go the whole length of amending the treaty.

It is no secret that W. Murray Crane, former Republican colleague of Mr. Lodge in the senate, is frankly and actively at odds with the latter's policy with respect to the treaty. Former Speaker Crane has more than once publicly stated that "the political future of the Republican party depends on the immediate ratification of the treaty of peace." Mr. Crane recently visited Washington to make known his convictions to Senator Lodge to urge the latter to cease his obstruction.

In an interview with a correspondent of the Boston Herald, a standpat Republican organ, Senator Lodge said, following his conference with his former colleague, that Mr. Crane's advice "didn't disturb me in the least." The relatively moderate attitude of the Republican party of Massachusetts is held, however, to be much more a conference with Former Speaker Crane than with Senator Lodge.

Charles F. McCaffrey, prosecuting attorney, was in Clarinda, Iowa, on business this morning.

Want to Be Sure to Wear Your Hanky Correctly, as in Ol' Lunmon

BY EARLE C. REEVES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

London.—(By mail).—Like a flapper, the knut must be dressed in the latest fashion, and the young man about town is apparently just a little worried as to what is the most up to date thing in silk handkerchiefs.

Shall they be small or large, self-colored or of variegated hues, with hemstitched borders or corded edges?

It is a really worrying problem for the young man who wants to be dressed "just so," for the handkerchief plays a most important part in the general getup of the man who wishes to be dressed so that the most flappy of flappers cannot arch her eyebrows and explain that unless he gets the right thing in handkerchiefs she will really have to cut him in the street.

In the matter of fashions men are not so well provided for as women, but in a trade paper an expert in men's dress provides a very timely hint on this vexed question of new handkerchief styles.

He points out that the custom of carrying the handkerchief in the sleeve is dying out in favor of the outside breast pocket of the coat. He then comes to business and boldly states that the silk handkerchief will be worn very extensively during the coming season, and the question has arisen concerning the size of the same.

"For some time past the 27-inch has been much in evidence, but all indications now point to an 18-inch size being adopted."

There you have it. The secret is out. The knut will have no further worry, and his best flapper will not look askance at him.

And this fashion expert doesn't stop there. He proceeds to set out the reasons for this reduction in size of the handkerchief and to disclose the colors which will be fashionable.

"This will be much nearer (he writes), and will not take up anything like the room in the pocket that the larger size ones, which, on account of its size, causes the pocket to present a bulky appearance.

"The kind that promises to become most popular is the self-colored, either with hemstitched borders of corded edges.

"The colors, undoubtedly, will be chosen to harmonize with the clothes worn."

Twill Japs (continues this expert) will lead the way, and a second favorite will be those known in the trade as "madder greens," with red and buff shades to go with tweed suits.

A Star man who uses a many-colored silk handkerchief of the bandanna type favored by the late Lord Russell of Kilowen, Sir Henry Hawkins and other eminent men, dead and alive, with the aid of a yard stick discovered that he was dead out of fashion with a measurement of 27 8-16 inches, and hied him to an up to date hosiery shop.

He diffidently asked to be shown the latest in self-colored silk handkerchiefs.

"To blow your nose with or for ornament?" asked the shopman.

Having recovered from his surprise, the Star man declared that he had no use for a handkerchief except for practical purposes, and the shopman then kindly explained that it was necessary to put this question, as the vast majority of men who bought colored silk handkerchiefs used them only to wear in the outside left breast pocket as an ornament.

"Quite useless for blowing the nose on," he remarked, as he produced an article measuring exactly the fashionable 18 inches.

"A short time ago a Canadian offered me 800 dozen small silk handkerchiefs made in Japan. It may be that this Japanese line is now coming on to the market. Fashion is a funny thing."

Irish Have a Soldiery Despite All England Can Do to Stop It

By HUGH CURRAN.
Special Correspondent International News Service.

Dublin, Oct.8.—Brief cabled news messages regarding drilling and other forms of illegal assembly hardly give any idea of the thoroughness with which the supporters of the Republican policy in Ireland carry on their work. Any form of drilling is, of course, contrary to the "defense of the realm" regulations. So also is the wearing of quasi-military uniforms.

In counties like Tipperary and Clare it is illegal to belong to the Sinn Fein or republican organization, or even to be a member of the Gaelic League, a purely literary and educational organization—at least, it is supposed to be. The carrying of arms is also, of course, strictly illegal.

In these circumstances, the revelations which are made almost daily at hearings before court martial are astounding, showing as they do a most absolute disregard of the laws laid down by the British government. And the fact that the government supplements the forces of the police with over 60,000 fully armed and equipped troops to carry out its orders, adds to the audacity which the republicans display.

It is a fact that in almost every county drillings are carried on to some extent. Sometimes it takes place indoors, now in one house, and now in another. Sometimes the young men assemble on some remote mountain where, high above the surrounding country, and with their scouts placed to watch for the approach of the "enemy"—military or police—they carry out their evolutions and keep themselves in training for the great event which nobody has any doubt will some day or other break out.

When this occurs there will undoubtedly be carnage and blood letting to a degree that will far surpass that of Easter week, 1916.

No one knows this better than those who take part in these drillings, and yet they take the risk lightly. They know that the government is determined to put down Sinn Fein, they dotted over with garrisons of troops, know that that is why the country is the roads patrolled by tanks and armored cars, and the air humming with aircraft. To these men the national freedom which they demand and for which they are prepared to die is far greater than their own personal safety. Better, they say, die in fighting for liberty than live as slaves.

The latest illustration of the daring of these ardent republicans comes from Glendore, a beautiful spot on the seacoast of the County Cork, which has been celebrated in exquisite verse by a Protestant clergyman who was rector of the place many years ago.

At Glendore there is a fine house and grounds known as Shorecliff. This came recently into the hands of Sinn Feiners, and during the present month it was arranged to hold in it a summer school for the teaching of the Irish language. In reality, the police authorities have found it to be a training camp. In order to keep up the language illusion many young women students came to the place and there were accommodated in the houses while most of the young men were living under canvas in an enclosed shrubbery.

The police siezed all who were found there and on further search discovered a considerable number of weapons, chiefly revolvers and pistols, and a considerable amount of ammunition. Documents siezed showed that the purpose of the concentration was a military one, for drilling and training. It was even suggested, though this was not proved, that the intention was that an attack should be made on the police stations in the neighborhood. Prosecutions were instituted against four of the leaders, the rest being allowed to go away.

These men refused to acknowledge the authority of a British court; they declined to plead, and after the evidence of the police had been given before the two magistrates who heard the case they were sentenced to terms varying from six months to two months in Cork jail.

The Crown prosecutor said the prisoners were being treated with great leniency, inasmuch as there was no doubt that all the sixty persons, including the women who were found in the place, were guilty of an indictable offense for which they could be sentenced to penal servitude for life. As it was, the charge made against the four leaders was a simple one of unlawful assembly.

Good Crowd at Musical Comedy.

G. B. ROSEBERRY IS SELECTED INTERCHURCH SURVEY LEADER

Will Direct Work in Nodaway County; Purpose of Movement is to Coordinate Protestantism

According to word form Prof. A. W. Taylor of Columbia, who is director of the survey for Missouri, G. B. Roseberry of Maryville has been named as county leader for the Missouri survey department of the Inter-Church World Movement of North America. The purpose of the survey is to take stock of the various Protestant denominations in the country so that re-adjustment of the work may be made.

According to Professor Taylor:

Roseberry 2a ADD iscaroLohtJs½ohno

"Astonishing revelations of how the 140 or more Protestant evangelical denominations of the United States have overlooked vital relibious needs in this country came to light at a national conference of religious leaders at Wallace Lodge, Yonkers, N. Y., which has just ended. It was discovertd that while each denomination had been working intensively in its own fields, because of a lack of cooperation in methods and purposes among them, many fields had been overlooked entirely. The conference was called by the Interchurch World Movement of North America which has undertaken a comprehensive census and survey of religious conditions to supervise the rural survey in each state. Altho the men came from a great number of denominations, it was remarked as an instance of the spirit of the Movement that nobody thought at the time to find out which particular churches were represented.

IF YOUR MAGAZINE IS LATE OR MISSING, HERE'S A REASON

Every One In New York Is Tied Up as Result of Printers' Dispute; May Move the Plants

New York, Oct. 11.—Every magazine printing establishment in this city has been closed as a result of the quarrel between certain local unions and their international unions, according to announcement last night by the Periodical Publishers' Association of America.

As a result of the strike and lockout prevailing in book and job offices of the publications they will not appear on time, the association announced.

Collier's Weekly, McClure's, Pictorial Review, Cosmopolitan, Hearst's Magazine, Harper's Magazine, Metro? Cosmopolitan, Scribner's magazine, Century, Munseys Popular, Delineator, Everybody's Magazine, McCall, Popular Science Monthly, Vogue, Vanity Fair Motion Picture Magazine, 152 others as well as many of the largest trade papers in the country.

Another effect of the printing situation is that the Long Island railroad has had to postpone indefinitely the date on which it planned to introduce its winter schedule, according to an announcement by Ralph Peters, federal manager of the road, who explained that because of the printing strike, the road could not publish its time tables.

The publishers announced "that three very large publications have already completed plans for permanent removal of their printing machinery and paper supply is now being shipped to Chicago.

TO MAKE JAR FROM BOTTLE

Writer in Electrical Experimenter Tells of Simple Method, by the Use of Liquids.

A novel and simple method of cutting a glass bottle so as to make a jar of it is sent to the Electrical Experimenter by Gerral Ehinger. Mark the line at which you want to cut. Pour water in up to within an inch of the line. Then slowly pour linseed oil in up to the level of the proposed cut. Then a red-hot iron plunged vertically into the oil will cause the glass to crack at the level of the liquid and leave an open top jar.

Cause of Beri-Beri.

The explanation of beri-beri as due to absence of a specific food material, or vitamin, has been shown by Dr. F. M. R. Walshe to be insufficient. Fowls deprived of the vitamin failed to develop the disease, and the experiments made indicate that besides absence of the vitamin the use of certain foods is necessary to supply the direct cause of the disease. Much evidence suggests that the carbohydrates supply this direct cause. In the absence of the specific vitamin preserving health these seem to generate toxic products, and through these products they give rise to a kind of intoxication.

TERRY'S BIG UNCLE TOM'S CABIN COMING

Announcement is made of the coming of the old favorite and much talked of play, Uncle Tom's Cabin. Many amusement enterprises have grown from small companies to two and three car shows, the Terry company being one that is found in this class, having started thirty years ago with a small troupe of ten people, gradually augmenting their attraction until now they are carrying fifty people and traveling in their own Pullman cars, their great success being due to the fact that the show's managment has always had the energy, push and honest business dealings in presenting this mammoth Uncle Tom's Cabin Company. From the day of their beginning with small things they have mounted upwards until now they stand at the top without competitors, and now Terry's Uncle Tom's Cabin is the household word in many states. The teachers in the schools, the preachers from their pulpits, the lecturer from his platform, fathers and mothers, each and everyone encourage the attendance to the world's greatest slave drama that Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote on the colored race. The Terry company presents this national drama in its entirety.

Neither expenses or time has been spared to make the Terry show one of the best on the road, having equipped the stage with all necessary scenic and electrical effects, and the presenting cast is made up of the very best dramatic talent that could possibly be secured, and anyone that witnesses the production can rest assured that they will see as complete a production as if it were shown in the larger cities in the first class theatres. The name, Terry, is a guarantee in itself for whenever this name is found upon the advertising the people will know what to expect, as their presentation is a true presentation of the author's story. Many imitators have tried to follow the ways of Terry and want to know the secret of the wonderful success. But there is no secret; it is simply the method in which the shows have been conducted since the first performance forty years ago.

Special attention has also been given to the bands and orchestras this season, nothing but the highest class musicians being engaged for the company. Terry's concert bands will give one concert on the main street at 7:30 P. M. Big street parade at 12 o'clock NOON on the day of their appearance, October 16. Remember Terry's Uncle Tom's Cabin will show one night only at Maryville.
